

Beware of a springtime tollway rebellion

Randy Toler hates paying tolls. He also blames the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority for the sprawl that has led to crowded roadways.

On April 15 and July 4, the 43-year-old Aurora political activist plans to do something about it. And although his acts of protest entail breaking the law, he is confident they will catch on.

Toler is asking motorists to avoid paying tolls those days

Chris
Fusco

Commuting

his little-known political party, the Green Party, will join him. He also plans to publicize the protests through signs and during his cam-